dren in the forefront of demonstrations in order to gain publicity about 'police brutality' when police or any soldiers try to control crowds or halt law violations.

"They will obtain new clothing and other merchandise when the looting starts," McClellan said. "They will carry weapons" and "will incite demonstrators to violence and rioting."

He urged President Johnson to issue a firm, unequivocal warning to the marchers that violence will not be tolerated.

The House Public Workers Committee meanwhile approved a measure designed to prevent demonstrators from living in tents or shacks in downtown Washington.

The measure would ban issues of permits for a camp-in on property near the Capitol, White House or the Mall.

Water Being Pumped Out of Mine

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — Ten giant pumps, drawing out 3,200 gallons of water each minute, quickened prospects today of rescuing 15 miners known to be alive in a flooded coal mine. Ten others, deeper in the mountain, were feared dead.

"The boys working the pumps down in the shaft are real optimistic," said H.E. Sundstrom, in overnight charge of the rescue. "They think that if the water keeps coming out like it has been, 13 of the men should be able to walk out this morning."

The wives of the trapped miners, their children and friends, remained silently at the mouth of the mine through the chilly night—as many have been since the mine flooded Monday noon. The area became a tent city, a floodlit nightmare, as the rescuers pushed on.

The horizontal passageway, only three feet high in places and descending gently for two miles, has been filled with water since the wall to an adjoining abandoned mine burst.

Closest to the entrance—about one mile in—are 13 men. They are in a chamber, higher than the roller-coaster like passageway. They have been sent food, water and blankets over a conveyor belt and air is being pumped to them.

Two others, mine foreman Frank Davis and miner Edward Rudd, are a half mile farther in. A vent drilled 140 feet through the roof of the mountain gave them similar relief.

The 15 maintained radio-telephone contact with the outside until late Tuesday night when the battery failed. The break in communications wasn't considered serious.

Two miles into the shaft, at its lowest point and nearest the wall break, are the 10 other miners. They have not been heard from.

Reuther Is Threatening to Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers union, currently renewing threats to quit the 14-million-member AFL-CIO, faces the possibility of being kicked out next week for nonpayment of dues.

The Auto Workers, issuing new attacks on AFL-CIO President George Meany's leadership from its convention in Atlantic City, will be three months and about $250,000 behind in dues May 15 and face automatic expulsion, informed sources said.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, meeting next week, may take up the matter and some sources predict a majority of its members may be angered enough to oust Reuther's union if it doesn't pay up.

Sources say AFL-CIO leaders are miffed at Reuther's announcement the Auto Workers may put its per capita AFL-CIO dues in escrow pending settlement of its demands for internal reform of the federation.

Too Early for Any Optimism in Task of Agreeing to Peace

LONDON (AP) — While applauding the Hanoi-Washington agreement to open Vietnam talks in Paris, some foreign commentators say it is too early for optimism and an "appalling, intractable task of peacemaking" lies ahead.

"It is hard to recall any negotiation in which the prospects for a settled peace seemed, at least at the outset, to be more remote, or the respective concessions harder to envisage," said the Sunday Times of London.

"Optimism for a successful outcome to the negotiations is still unwarranted," said the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri.

"Once the two sides are at the same table the pressure of public opinion at home will tend to keep them there. No amount of public pressure, however, can diminish the appallingly intractable task of peacemaking that lies ahead," said the British newspaper Guardian.

"The first task," the Guardian said, "will be to stop what has become an international war between America and North Vietnam. The second, and harder task, will be to prevent the civil war continuing" between the Saigon government and the Viet Cong.

"The United States has obligations now to South Vietnam, obligations to those who would be the innocent victims of an unabated civil war as well as obligations to the South Vietnamese government," the paper added.

An Associated Press sampling of foreign opinion showed a number of commentators calling for a cease-fire during the talks, but general pessimism about chances for a halt to the fighting.

"Since the talks in Paris are expected to be protracted and difficult, there might be further intensification of military operations in South Vietnam," said the Japan Times.

It added: "We must accept the cold fact that neither side can afford to lose its military foothold unless in a highly unlikely event firm guarantees can be quickly reached on the negotiating table."

Yomiuri called on the United States to halt completely the bombing of North Vietnam to enhance chances for peace.

"As the mightiest nation in the world, the United States can afford to show greater tolerance and such an initiative would make it easier for Hanoi to take a more flexible attitude in the sensitive negotiations," Yomiuri said.

Educational Budgets to Be Studied

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council will conduct hearings this week-end on the funding of educational budgets, an unclaimed property bill and on the Department of Corrections bill enacted last February.

Hearings on the unclaimed property proposal and the corrections measure are scheduled for Wednesday while representatives of colleges, universities and the public schools will discuss their financial affairs Thursday.

The council will probably meet through Friday as it works on matters that may be presented in the special session of the legislature scheduled to start May 20.

Capture of Suspect Described

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — "If I'd been in his place, with all those guns facing me, and knowing the pent-up anger in the men aiming the guns, I'd have reached for the sky," said Boone County Sheriff Doyle Hickman.

Hickman was referring to Edwin O. Pitman, 28, wanted for the slaying of Baxter County Sheriff Emmett Edmonds, who was captured Tuesday hiding under a pickup truck outside the home of his wife's parents at nearby Cotter.

"I shouted to him that he was under arrest and to come out with his hands up and his back toward me," Hickman said. "But he crawled out slowly and stood up, facing me." He said Pitman raised his arms to shoulder level and then slowly dropped one arm back down.

"That's the most dangerous spot I've ever been in," said Hickman. "Not only was I not sure he wasn't reaching for a gun, but I know how on edge everyone was. If just one had let off a shot, it would have meant real trouble for all."

Hickman, who has won the sharpshooter award at the past six Arkansas Peaceofficers conventions, said Pitman finally obeyed the order to turn around and a .357-magnum pistol was discovered at his feet.

Rockefeller Deletes Part of Speech

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that he did what his "conscience dictated" in deleting a portion of his prepared text in a speech at Arkansas AM&N College's honors day program.

The portion of the text the governor was to deliver said he didn't care if he lost his bid for re-election because he invited marchers to the Capitol after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"If I thought what happened to me politically was the most important thing in my life, then perhaps the record wouldn't show that on that Sunday afternoon, that somber Sunday between Memphis and Atlanta, one governor of the 50 invited the marchers to come to their state capitol and that was the governor of Arkansas," the prepared text said.

"I don't know whether that was good politics or not, I don't care. If I lose the election, then so be it. There are far greater defeats than that."

The bidding of today's hand is interesting in that each player had a decision to make at almost every turn to bid. East might well have responded with one spade. He only held four high card points, but six-card spade suits don't grow on bushes.

South might well have passed and tried to set one heart, but South's hand might well produce a game if North could make some move to help.

North didn't move right away, but after East reopened with two spades, North gave a belated club raise. West got into the act and pushed to three spades, whereupon North made a slightly unsound four-club bid. South wasn't supposed to go on. You don't go to game after both you and your partner have shown a desire to try for a part score, but South decided that he had underbid his hand materially and that he wanted to play at game.

South's decision was unfortunate but we can't criticize him for making it. He had made only one mild bid with his tremendous hand.

West opened his ace of hearts to have a look around the table. He suspected that there might be a singleton heart somewhere and if his partner held it, West was going to give him a ruff.

When North showed up with a heart singleton and East played the discouraging deuce, West shifted to his ace of spades.

East wanted his partner to lead another heart. East could overruff dummy, but how could East make sure of that heart shift?

East worked it out! He dropped his king of spades

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

IF YOU DON'T LIKE THE HEAT, STAY OUT OF THE KITCHEN

Dear Helen: A neighbor just called to warn us about an impending invitation from another neighbor. This last family just returned from a fashionable vacation spot, and each time they do (two or three times a year), all friends, relatives and neighbors are called in, a family at a time, for a drink and social visit.

This is their way of getting captives to impress with their trip, souvenirs, home, etc. We would be happy to see pictures of Mexico, Jamaica, and so on, if they were PLACES, and not people. But we must sit through slide after slide of Mary in her new bikini in front of "our" pool, or Jim, stripped to the waist, on "our" hotel balcony, or "his" waving goodbye to the islands.

Next comes a tour of the house to see all the new acquisitions, from "our" original paintings to Suzie's latest wig.

We've used every reasonable excuse, but even if they have to wait a year, our gloating egomanias are sure to trap us.

How do we get through to these people that their pictures and tours are pleasing to them only, and no amount of liquor or sweet talk will change our attitudes?—BORED OF BOASTERS

Dear Helen: Are you sure your neighbors are egomanias—or are you just a silly little millimeter jealous? If you want their friendship, you can suffer through a few dull pictures—or sit in the front row and sleep through them. And you can be kind enough to call it "misplaced sharing."

But if their "our by our" report lasts all through the year, tune them out. Life's too short. . .etc.—H.

Dear Helen: This concerns the two letters written by Mrs. P.U. about the elderly neighbor who runs hot water over her arthritic arms at night thus keeping others in the apartment house under his partner's ace. West was surprised, but he wasn't too surprised to lead a heart and set the contract.

awake. I think there are two ill people here: One with arthritis of the body, and the other with arthritis of the mind—which is curable. Mrs. P.U. should stop the back-biting and learn to walk that second mile: To be kind even to those who don't appreciate it. She says "sweet friendly towns" and "love thy neighbor" don't exist any more. How wrong she is! It's up to her to be the type of person people care about.

She might find out that most people, given a chance, do react kindly to kindness—even though they're suffering from deep arthritic pain. She might even learn to sleep through the sound of running water, just as others get used to living next to railroad tracks.—MRS. E.M.

Dear Helen: I was furious at your answer to Mrs. P.U., telling her to use kindness with the old water-waster. Those old fogies don't know kindness because they have rocks where their hearts are.

Haven't you figured out that the woman uses her arthritis as an excuse to consume the apartment house's hot water supply?

I have a mother-in-law like this. She runs cold water constantly because she is charged $3.00 a month flat rate, and she says she is going to get her money's worth, whether there's a water shortage or not. She scrimps on hot water, because she pays for the gas heater.—FOR MRS. P. U.

Dear Helen: Somehow I think I should be the one to answer "Mrs. P.U." in her complaint about the arthritic who uses hot water over her arms at unseemly hours of the night.

You see, I have both arthritis and hypersensitive hearing.

I have compassion for both women inasmuch as I have miserable experiences related to both problems. But, will you please tell the complainers that they never had it so good? Let them read the newspapers, listen to the radio and watch TV. They'll find out what real suffering is—in Vietnam. None of those fellows over there deserve their agonies either, but they aren't writing back home to complain about them.

If it would not hurt my own arms and hands so much, I would like to spank such whiners!—THOROUGHLY BURNED

Commander Says There Was Mutiny

By MALCOLM G. BARR

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter, stripped of a ship's command after junior officers' complaints, has told a special congressional committee there was mutiny on the vessel.

Arnheiter, a 42-year-old career Navy officer, was relieved as captain of the destroyer escort Vance in 1966 after the Navy ruled he showed "a serious lack of judgment" and "knowingly and deliberately committed many derelictions."

Capt. Richard G. Alexander, 45, who lost command of the battleship New Jersey after interceding with Defense Department authorities on Arnheiter's behalf, is to testify today.

Appearing Tuesday before a committee called together by Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y. — who vows to get the case "before Congress or to the White House if needs be"—Arnheiter said that when he assumed command of the Vance, "complete bedlam" existed.

He contended morale was low, the vessel was rusty and infested with cockroaches "and I began to wonder what I had inherited."

He testified throughout the first day of the scheduled three-day hearing, saying he wanted his "day in court under proper naval proceedings" and that this had been denied him. His wife sat two rows behind him in the crowded committee room.

There are no official Navy witnesses at the hearing, Resnick said the Navy has refused to cooperate or participate in the inquiry.

Arnheiter, a decorated Naval Academy graduate with seven years of sea duty aboard destroyers, said his intention aboard the Vance was to "take a lax ship and make it into a fighting ship."

Denying any improper conduct, he said, "My major intent was . . . to take this ship into a war zone with a shipshape crew who would be proud of the ship and of whom the U.S. Navy could be proud."

Arnheiter said he met resistance in his efforts. "Did you feel there was actual mutiny aboard the Vance?" attorney Marvin Lewis asked Arnheiter.

"Yes," Arnheiter replied, puffing on a cigar. He said he filed charges alleging mutiny over the objections of the commander of the Pacific destroyer force.

Arnheiter now is shore-based near San Francisco and Alexander has a desk job in Boston.

Students at College Will Surrender

By LEE LINDER

Associated Press Writer

CHEYNEY, Pa. (AP) —

Cheyney State College students said they were ready to surrender today the school's administration building as soon as state investigators arrive for hearings on their grievances.

An end to the student demonstration was indicated Tuesday night after David H. Kurtzman, state superintendent of public instruction, had met most of the day with committees of the protesting students, of the faculty and of parents.

Kurtzman said he had promised the students and their parents that state officials would be on the campus to go over student financial accounts, to check courses in the curriculum and to determine whether complaints that some subjects are not offered frequently enough to permit graduation within four years are valid.

Some 400 of Cheyney's 1,800 students seized the administration building Monday and barricaded the entrances.

Met Hurler Limits Cards to 3 Hits

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer Nolan Ryan might soak his pitching hand in pickle juice, but after several whiffs, the St. Louis Cardinals were comparing him to Sandy Koufax and his odorless ice water.

The 21-year-old hurler zipped his fast ball by the National League leading Cardinals for eight strikeouts and a three-hitter Tuesday night and the New York Mets had themselves a 4-1 victory.

"He's faster than Koufax and he's the fastest I've seen in the major leagues," marveled the Cardinals' Mike Shannon, although he'd rather face Ryan than Koufax "because Koufax had the tougher curve."

Right-hander Ryan, you see, soaks his pitching hand in pickle juice between innings to toughen the skin because of blisters, while lefty Koufax used ice water to keep down the swelling on his arthritic left elbow.

Mike Ryan, who is trying to make a name for himself in the majors as a catcher, might need some pickle juice for blisters himself after extra hitting practice paid off with a game-winning hit in Philadelphia's 5-2 victory over Cincinnati.

In other NL games, the Atlanta Braves edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and Houston bombed Juan Marichal and San Francisco 7-1 at night and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in the afternoon.

In the American League, Cleveland blasted the New York Yankees 8-0, Detroit slipped past Baltimore 2-1, Boston nudged Washington 3-2, Minnesota tripped Oakland 2-1 and Chicago whipped California 6-4.

Ryan, who shut out Philadelphia and struck out 10 in his last outing, was not even at his best against the Cardinals as he raised his record to 3-2.

"I didn't have my best fast ball, but I had pretty good control," the young rookie said.

Ryan fell behind in the third when Bobby Tolan singled in the St. Louis run, but he was in command the rest of the way. Art Shamsky gave him runs he needed in the seventh against Nelson Briles, 4-2, when he followed Dave Boswell's single with his first home run of the season for a 2-1 lead.

Mike Ryan, who hasn't hit better than .214 in 2½ seasons in the majors, lined a tie-breaking two-run triple out of the reach of diving outfielder Pete Rose in the seventh inning in Philadelphia's triumph.

"I have been out at this ball park since noon today," a tired Ryan said after the game. "Manager Gene Mauch was throwing to me to help me improve my batting. I hope to see more action if I can do better at the plate."

He currently is hitting an embarrassing .172.

In contrast, Rose extended his hitting streak to 22 games with a single.

Felix Milan singled home the winning run in the ninth inning for Atlanta, beating the Pirates' Al McBean, who had a no-hitter for 6 2-3 innings and only wound up with his second loss against four victories.

Don Wilson scattered seven hits and struck a two-run single to cap a four-run seventh inning that knocked out Juan Marichal in Houston's victory. Wilson evened his record at 2-2, although Mike Cuellar had to get the last two outs.

Claude Osteen of Los Angeles, with relief help from John Billingham, outduelled Richie Nye of the Cubs as Ron Fairly drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and Rocky Colavito singled in the winner in the fifth.

British Race Driver Dies After Crash

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — British Grand Prix Driver Mike Spence died Tuesday after his turbine-powered Lotus crashed against a wall at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Spence, 31, of Maidenhead, England, was injured in a practice run for the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30 and died in a hospital 4½ hours after the crash.

He was a member of the Lotus team which drives cars built by Colin Chapman of England. Spence was driving a car assigned to another driver when it slammed into the wall on the Speedway's No. 1 turn. He suffered multiple head injuries and never regained consciousness.

Walter Myers, Speedway chief observer, witnessed the crash. He said Spence was driving higher and higher on the track each time he neared the first turn.

He said just before the crash the car went above the normal groove into loose sand and other material that accumulates outside the normal running surfaces.

Harlan Fenger, chief steward for the 500-mile race, impounded the death car and the three other Lotus turbines entered for the race.

Policing Is Done Well in Sports Racing

BALTIMORE (AP) — The disqualification of Kentucky Derby winner Dancer's Image served anew to point out the policing job done by horse racing interests on their own sport.

The Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, organized in 1946, and the various state racing commissions have worked hard to eliminate the slightest hint of scandal.

The TRPB, sometimes called the FBI of racing, has rooted out and barred from the tracks hundreds of gamblers, touts, racketeers and various undesirables.

The organization is constantly on the alert for such things as the counterfeiting of mutual tickets, the fixing of races and the stimulation of horses.

The number of cases of stimulation or doping, once a sore spot of the sport, dropped drastically after the TRPB was organized under former FBI agent Spencer Drayton.

They still pop up periodically, but seldom with the dramatic impact of Tuesday's announcement from Churchill Downs that Dancer's Image was disqualified after the drug phenylbutazone was found in the system during a post-race urinalysis.

The TRPB handled 33 stimulation cases during its first year of operation, and the number dropped to 14 by 1952—when some 152,000 horses were involved in 19,000 races.

At the start, the TRPB had to investigate ringer cases, in

Santiago Hurls Bosox to Victory

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer Jose Santiago's luck is holding up, Joe Horlen's fortunes finally have taken a turn for the better and the Sox are on the run again.

Santiago hurled the Boston Red Sox to a 3-2 victory over Washington Tuesday night, extending his regular season winning streak—begun last year—to 12 games.

Horlen, meanwhile, earned his first triumph of the season after a run of five setbacks as the Chicago White Sox trimmed California 6-4 with the help of a grand slam homer by Tom McCraw.

Their respective victories ended a three-game tailspin for Boston and moved last place Chicago within one game of the struggling New York Yankees.

Cleveland's streaking Indians buried the Yankees 8-0, Detroit edged Baltimore 2-1 and Minnesota shaded Oakland 2-1 in other games.

In National League play the New York Mets topped St. Louis 4-1, Houston bounced San Francisco 7-1, Atlanta nipped Pittsburgh 2-1, Philadelphia downed Cincinnati 5-2 and Los Angeles slipped past the Chicago Cubs 2-1.

Santiago, who had strung together eight straight 1967 victories beginning last July, got help from his mound opponent, Joe Coleman, and Red Sox reliever Lee Stange in posting victory No. 4 this spring.

A balk by Coleman in the third inning sent home Boston's third run and Stange came out of the bullpen to get the last four outs after the Senators closed the gap with a run in the seventh and another in the eighth.

Joe Foy's first inning double and Carl Yastrzemski's third inning single drove in the Red Sox' first two runs, starting Washington on the way to its fifth loss in a row.

Horlen, whose early troubles paralleled the White Sox' sorry sendoff this year, blanked the slumping Angels until the seventh inning, when he needed relief help to nail his first victory.

McCraw helped put Horlen over the top with his grand slam off loser Sammy Ellis in the White Sox' five-run third, then hastened the pitcher's seventh-inning exit with an error.

The Chicago first baseman said he's developed a "thing" about making bad fielding plays when Horlen is pitching. "I've been doing it for over a year now and I think now that I light up and try too hard when Horlen is on the mound," McCraw said.

The Sox led 6-0 when McCraw's boot and singles by Tom Satriano and Jimmie Hall filled the bases for Jim Fregosi, who stroked a two-run single that knocked out Horlen.

Luis Tiant scattered five hits and struck out 10 on the way to his third consecutive shutout as the Indians rolled past New York for their sixth straight victory.

Tiant contributed a two-run single, Tony Horton a two-run double and Jose Cardenal a two-run inside-the-park homer to the Indians' attack on loser Jim Bouton and two successors.

Cleveland pitchers have allowed just four runs during the winning streak.

Tom Matchick's two-run pinch hit double in the ninth gave Detroit a 2-0 lead and the Tigers withstood Boog Powell's homer to snap the Orioles' winning string at eight.

Winning pitcher Mickey Lolich and Baltimore's Tom Phoebus hooked up in a scoreless duel until the ninth, when two walks and a grand out set the stage for Matchick's decisive double to right center.

The Twins, who had dropped four straight, ended a four-game Oakland victory skid by pushing over two early runs and holding off a late rally by the A's, whose hopes for an eighth inning blitz died in a freak double play.

After yielding singles by Rick Monday and Danny Cater, winning pitcher Jim Perry grabbed Bert Campaneris' tap to the mound and trapped Monday off third. The relay to first caught Campaneris making a wide turn and he was run down for the second out.

Two more hits accounted for just one run before reliever Al Worthington pitched out of the jam.

Turf World Shaken by Incident

By GEORGE W. HACKETT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Charges of tampering reverberated in the turf world today over the disqualification of Dancer's Image from first place in America's most famous horse race, the Kentucky Derby.

Peter Fuller, owner of the 3-year-old colt, charged his horse had been tampered with.

"I'm going to get to the bottom of this and I'm going to offer a large financial reward to find the individual or individuals who tampered with my horse," the Boston sportsman said. "Anybody could have got to the horse before the race."

In what may become the most controversial incident in American thoroughbred history, Dancer's Image was disqualified and placed last by the Churchill Downs stewards Tuesday. This was three days after Dancer's Image, the 7-2 second choice, finished first in the Derby by 1½ lengths over the favored Forward Pass.

The stewards disqualified Dancer's Image because of the presence of a pain-killing drug. They said in a statement: "The chemist for the Kentucky State Racing Commission has reported that the analysis of the urine sample ... contained phenylbutazone and/or a derivative thereof."

Trainer Lou Cavalaris said he was stunned by the announcement. "Nothing like this has ever happened to me." Later in an interview over radio station CFRB in Toronto, Cavalaris denied he or any member of his staff administered phenylbutazone after the prescribed 72-hour ban before the Derby.

He said Dancer's Image was given the drug on Sunday, five days before the Derby, but not thereafter. He said he and any of his crew would take lie-detector tests "anywhere and anytime the Kentucky racing officials want us." He said it was possible someone might have slipped into the horse's stall and administered the drug.

Forward Pass, from the Calumet Farm, was declared the official winner and awarded first money of $122,600.

The drug, often called butazolidin, is used for the suppression of pain, but has been barred at Kentucky and others tracks since 1962.

Who administered the drug? When was it given? Why? Churchill Downs, which announced the disqualification, declined to go beyond its statement.

"I have no idea who the guilty party is," said Wathen Knebelkamp, president of the Downs. "We consider this a tragic misfortune."

It was the 94th running of the famed Triple Crown classic and its first disqualification.

"The track is continuing its investigation," Knebelkamp continued. "The facts should come out at a hearing before the commissioners." The hearing is scheduled for Monday.

Regardless of the outcome, there will be no change for the bettors. Under the rules of racing the wagering on the race is not affected.

Baseball Field in Cemetery

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Portland's recreation superintendent suggested Tuesday that a cemetery controlled by the city be used as a baseball field.

Bernard B. Campbell told a model cities task force on housing and physical improvements "there's a crying need for places for boys to play baseball. The only place we can find is Western Cemetery."

There were 52,079 paid fans in Shea Stadium that day to watch the first Met pitcher who ever hurled successive shutouts.

It was the first time in seven years that the Mets won a home opener. As years pass people will think 200,000 saw that game. Met fans raved over Tom Seaver's 16 rookie wins last season but now the big draw is Koozman. And if he keeps things going the Mets are apt to tear up his $12,000 contract.

This is a real story book pitcher.

Only two big league teams knew about him — the Minnesota Twins and the Mets — because nobody bothered to scout the Fort Bliss, Tex., Army team in the summer of

Koosman Is Best Bargain in Met History

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Any day now people will be calling Jerry Koosman the big farm boy who learned to pitch in a hay loft.

As a teenager on cold Appleton, Minn., nights, following high school classes, farm chores and dinner, Kooz would climb a ladder in the big barn on the family's 640-acre spread and pitch baseballs to his two brothers.

"After Orville married, Jerry became my catcher," says the new Golden Arm of the New York Mets. "Pitched a lot of no hitters, too, because there were no batters."

Homemakers Club Week

The Tasmanian wolf differs from other marsupials in that it has a pouch in its abdomen, like that of a kangaroo, but it opens backward.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, Extension Home-makers Club work since its of-ficial beginning in 1914 has con-tributed much to the health and welfare of this nation and has encouraged both rural and urban women to adopt family living practices to improve family and community living, and

WHEREAS, Extension Home-makers Club women have put in-to practice the skills and sci-ence learned through club work to improve their own family's posi-tion and through training meet-ings have made information on family living available to the en-tire community, and

WHEREAS, Extension Home-makers Club women have always been concerned with the moral, spiritual and social im-provement, and

Homemakers in Hempstead County as a part of the 24,000 club women of Arkansas play an important role in the building of our county and state:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Finis Odom, County Judge of Hemp-stead County, in recognition of the fine work of the Extension Homemakers Clubs do hereby proclaim the week of May 5-11 as ARKANSAS EXTENSION HOMEMAKERS CLUB WEEK in Hempstead County.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused

Friendly Ghost Gets Invitation

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Sir John Forbes, the "friend-ly ghost" at 17th century Crai-gievlar Castle, has been invited to a wedding in the castle where he lived 300 years ago.

Kristine Forbes-Sempill, 24-year-old daughter of the ruler of Craigievlar, Lady Sempill, will be married June 1 in the castle to John Cable, 29, an account-ant. The formal invitation to Sir John rests on the mantelpiece in the castle hall.

"The invitation is to Red Sir John and the other castle ghosts to attend the wedding," Lady Sempill said.

Nostalgia — for Things That Used to Be

Yesterday I was telling you how The Star recovered a $7.52 February discount from a Chicago supplier because we established the fact he was late billing us. This is another chapter.

Following my telephone complaint yesterday that we lost February's discount because the invoice—2 per cent discount for payment in 10 days—was late getting to us, and I could prove it by the fact that we had a new shipment in the house for more than a week and still no invoice on it, I heard from Chicago in this morning's mail.

Chicago enclosed a photo copy of the current invoice with the notation that the original had been mailed May 1. Actually the original came in here in the final mail yesterday afternoon, not long after I had hung up the telephone.

Mailed from Chicago May 1, arrived in Hope May 7—not so good.

If I am to believe the Chicago supplier the mail service is terrible.

But nowadays we don't have postmarks—that is to say, most offices use postal meters, and a meter puts responsibility for the date of mailing on a private business rather than the post office.

Just now I am feeling nostalgic about the old-time postmark. It determined the truth about mailing, and fixed responsibility.

Nostalgia rises again when you are direct-dialing on the telephone. I called the main office of a Little Rock firm the other day, but got the cafeteria instead. The girl explained that the office and the cafeteria were on the same line, but she answered first. I lost the call, of course, and appealed to the local Operator. My recourse, she said, was to make a note of the number and date and deduct the charge from our next telephone bill—a month away. I did no such thing. My desk is already six inches deep in paper work . . . no room for minor notes . . . so we ate the charge.

All this is the price we pay for Progress—It's O.K., I suppose, but you can't lynch a fellow for hankering for the things that used to be.

Jobless Rate in Nation Shows Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nation's unemployment rate dropped to 3.5 per cent of the nation's labor force last month, matching a record 15-year low point.

But the jobless rate for Negroes at 6.7 per cent remained more than double the rate for white workers, which was 3.1 per cent, and was even worse in the slums of the nation's 100 largest cities, the Labor Department said today.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics also reported that the wave of riots in many cities reduced the hours of work in many areas.

$506,000 Loan Is Approved

Would Play Down March Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's only Negro member has asked his Capitol Hill colleagues to downplay talk of potential violence during the Poor People's Campaign in Washington.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., spoke after Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told the Senate Tuesday that his investigation subcommittee has evidence "two radical and very extremist leaders" plan to grab control of the campaign and turn it to rioting.

Despite a request from Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., McClellan refused to name the two. Brooke said Congress "should presume the march on Washington is going to be a peaceful, nonviolent demonstration. There is no basis for the assumption that this march on Washington will be violent."

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, successor to Dr. Martin Luther King as head of the sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has vowed the protest will be nonviolent.

He also has said it might involve civil disobedience if Congress didn't respond to the campaign's pleas for better housing and education and jobs for the poor.

Estimates on the number of people involved in the campaign — to get under way next week in the capital—have ranged from several thousand to hundreds of thousands.

McClellan said his subcommittee learned of an Alabama meeting where statements were made that Abernathy "will be pushed aside and that two very radical and extremist leaders whom I will not name now, are to take his place and lead the demonstration and take over."

McClellan said his subcommittee has evidence the militants will seek to build a "shantytown" on the Capitol Mall—between the Capitol and the Washington Monument—whether or not they have a permit and "prevent senators and congressmen from reaching their offices by accosting them on the streets of Capitol Hill."

He said "they will place children in front of the Capitol."

High Cost of Keeping Up With Joneses Has Caused Moonlighting

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The high cost of keeping up with the Joneses is creating more moonlighters in America. Some 3.6 million workers—about five per cent of the labor force—now hold down two or more jobs.

Modern war has eliminated at least one combat hazard: the mule. After the Civil War, a thousand Union veterans received disability pensions from injuries suffered from the bites and kicks of Army mules.

Quotable notables: "I think it's very dangerous for an actor to get into politics," says Jackie Gleason, the fat man's fat man. "An actor spends his career learning how to fool people, and I think it becomes an unfair advantage if he uses his knack to get elected to public office."

Kennedy Strength Is Greatest in Heavily Populated Negro Areas

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, showing greatest strength in heavily Negro areas, defeated Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in their first primary confrontation and won the District of Columbia's 23-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Kennedy's supporters also won elections for Democratic national committeeman and committeewoman from incumbents who favor Humphrey. And they held the lead in contests for control of the local party organization.

All 21 members of the slate supporting the New Yorker were well ahead of the organization ticket which backed Humphrey. There was no presidential preference vote and Kennedy was the only candidate who did any campaigning here.

A spot check showed Democrats were voting 10-to-1 in favor of imposing a unit rule to bind the entire delegation, which will include the 21 delegates elected Tuesday and the outgoing national committeeman and committeewoman.

In the Republican primary, the regular slate won easily. It consists of six supporters of Richard M. Nixon and three

Petersen Is Named by Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Tuesday named Dr. John M. Petersen, 56, as director of the state Employment Security Division.

Petersen succeeds Jerry K. Thomason of Arkadelphia in the $19,700 a year position. Thomason recently resigned to run for attorney general.

Rockefeller said Petersen, who had been director of economic development on the governor's staff for 15 months, would "be a tremendous help" in the development of meaningful job programs.

Rockefeller also announced that Dr. Ralph Gray would take over the development program. Gray has been the No. 2 man on the governor's economic staff.

Poor People's Drive to Start Again

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Southern prong of the Poor People's Campaign, 300 strong and growing, stopped here on the second night of their trek to Washington and planned a downtown march today in memory of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The march was to begin shortly after the body of Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace moved to the State Capitol to lie in state.

Officials were apprehensive that the two processions might coincide. City Atty. Ira Dement said the marchers had not asked for a parade permit, but a last minute application would be considered.

It was to be the last demonstration in Montgomery before the Rev. Ralph Abernathy gathered his group into their buses and headed for Birmingham, the third Alabama stop on the tour aimed at getting poverty legislation from Congress.

The parade route headed about a mile and a half from a church, where the first of a series of workshops in nonviolence for the marchers was scheduled, to the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, where King was pastor when he began his civil rights campaigns in the 1950s.

The Dexter Avenue church is a block from the State Capitol. Numerous state troopers had circled the Capitol Tuesday night when there was talk of an after-dark march into the area.

Lausche Is Defeated in Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an impressive showing by Richard M. Nixon and the defeat of veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, highlighted five primaries across the nation.

Kennedy defeated Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Indiana's Democratic presidential primary and his national convention delegate slate beat Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's in the District of Columbia.

Republican candidate Nixon was unopposed and got an even bigger Indiana vote than in the 1960 primary. He carried the state in the 1960 general presidential election.

Lausche was defeated by Cincinnati City Councilman John J. Gilligan, a former congressman who had labor support and the Ohio Democratic organization endorsement.

In Tuesday's primary voting: — Kennedy got about 42 per cent of the Indiana vote to about 31 per cent for favorite son candidate Gov. Roger D. Branigan and about 27 per cent for McCarthy.

But it appeared possible Kennedy might have to share with Branigan some of Indiana's 63 Democratic National Convention delegates. Nixon garnered all 26 Republican convention votes.

All 21 candidates on Kennedy's delegate slate in the District of Columbia were far outdistancing their Humphrey rivals. By unit rule Kennedy gets all 23 of Washington's convention votes.

Also in the D.C. voting, a GOP slate composed of both Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller supporters easily defeated a slate weighted toward California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a favorite son candidate.

The cause of death was not known but the hospital said Cobb, who received the heart of a 15-year-old boy Sunday, was believed to have died because of liver and kidney failure.

Meanwhile, the other two patients remained in satisfactory condition. They were J. M. Stuckwisch, 62, Alpine, Tex., and Everett Claire Thomas, 47, Phoenix, Ariz.

U.S. Peace Group Set But Concerned Over Acceleration of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. delegation is set for Paris peace contacts with Hanoi negotiators but in Washington officials expressed concern that what they termed accelerated North Vietnamese military activity could force American re-evaluation.

The six-member American diplomatic team, headed by Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, is to leave for Paris Thursday. North Vietnam's delegation began arriving there Tuesday.

Ha Van Lao, adviser to chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy, said he is optimistic about prospects but did not elaborate.

Despite the approach of preliminary talks, U.S. officials said, record levels of troop infiltration from the North into South Vietnam have been noted.

These officials also said they are concerned about a new wave of enemy attacks on Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

Accompanying Harriman to Paris will be Cyrus R. Vance, former deputy secretary of defense; Lt. Gen. Andrew Goodpaster, under assignment as deputy U.S. military commander in Vietnam; Philip C. Up to last Sunday, according to reports from Saigon, an estimated 100,000 Communist troops have entered South Vietnam since late January—more than 6,500 of them in the first five days of this month. Meanwhile, there have been no U.S. reinforcements, officials said.

Also in the D.C. voting, a GOP slate composed of both Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller supporters easily defeated a slate weighted toward California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a favorite son candidate.

Paris Police Battle With Students

PARIS (AP) — Paris police battled with tear gas and clubs today to block a student march on the Sorbonne after thousands of demonstrators paraded through the heart of the French capital for five hours.

The students fought back with paving stones and threw up a street barricade. Finally they went home a few hours before dawn, vowing to return to the streets.

It was the third day of clashes in Paris between police and students protesting overcrowding in France's universities and courses of study which they claim are out of date in the age of space and electronics.

The rioting began last Friday, after suburban Nanterre University and the Sorbonne—the University of Paris—were closed because of student demonstrations. On Monday, the battle between students and police in the Paris streets was the worst in recent memory. By comparison, the trouble Tuesday night was minor.

Tuesday's demonstration began with a huge parade, organized by the French National Students' Union, from the southern part of the city, across the Left Bank and the Seine, up the Champs Elysees and back to the Left Bank. Estimates of the marching throng ranged from 10,000 to 20,000.

The students sang the Communist Internationale, shouted such slogans as "The Sorbonne belongs to the students," waved red flags and called to onlookers to join them as they marched up the Champs Elysees, closing all traffic before them. Many came from the sidewalks to march along the 15-mile route.

GOPs to Hold Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller signed an agreement Tuesday under which the federal Office of Emergency Planning will provide $250,000 for reconstruction of public facilities at Greenwood damaged by a tornado that also claimed 14 lives.
